‘Slavery then and now’
Workshop and discussion
Saturday 24 October
The history and legacy of slavery continues to be an important topic of ongoing discussion and exploration on many levels: by descendant communities, artists, performers, writers and scholars amongst others. Exploring this experientially has been critical, and the December 1st commemoration of the 1834 Emancipation Day has come to be an important focal point for Cape Town in this regard.

You are invited to take part in a workshop and discussion on ‘Slavery then and now’, part of which will include an update and call for participation in further planning for the 2009 December 1st commemoration.

Date:        Saturday 24 October
Venue:      Prestwich Memorial, Somerset Road
Time:          13h30 – 16h30

Please RSVP to:
Nicky on 021-466 7200 or nicky@districtsix.co.za; or Alphonse on alphonse@healingofmemories.co.za; or
Natalie on 021-763 7164 or njaynes@ijr.co.za

Organised by
District Six Museum, the Institute for Justice and Reconciliation, Prestwich Place Project Committee, the Institute for the Healing of Memories and PeaceJam